Order Cancelled

Nazis Will Not Need Swedish Granite For Victory Monuments
The Germans have notified the Swedish stone industry to halt the quarrying of granite which they had ordered for the post-war construction of German victory monuments and official Nazi buildings. An enormous contract for the stone was issued at the beginning of the war. Huge blocks of red, black and grey granite have been stored in Sweden pending delivery to the Nazis.

Girls' Band

Pipes Imported From India Are Played By Lakshmi Girl Pipers
Back in 1935, when the Fort William Girls' Pipe Band was organized, the Canadian supply of bagpipes was so limited that arrangements had to be made to import pipes from India. Today the Fort William Girls' Pipe Band is one of the busiest musical organizations in Canada, playing at least five engagements every week, most of them for the entertainment of members of the armed forces.

The band's early association with things Indian has continued to the present time, for the leopard skin worn by the bass drummer comes from a leopard shot in that country by a missionary friend of the band. He had the hide cured, and shipped it to Fort William this spring.

Concluding a week-long tour which had taken them to M.D. 10 training centres at Brandon, Shilo Camp and Portage la Prairie, the girls appeared at the 103rd Basic Training Centre at Fort Garry, Winnipeg suburb, on September 2nd, and the Orpheum Theatre for down town troops on September 3rd.

British self-maintaining, the band last summer toured the central United States with Grace Fields. Ages of the band members range from 13 to 19 years. In charge of the girl pipers are Mrs. P. MacGregor and Mrs. R. McCowan, both members of the band's auxiliary, and Mr. C. Dykes, band president.

Within Range Of Guns

New Treatment For Soldiers Good Cure For Nerve Black

British soldiers suffering from "nerve" shock in Sicily were normally taken out of the line for a few days relaxation within range of enemy guns, according to London psychologists.

The practice, one explained, is a development of "an interesting principle originated in the last war." The aim is to give no time for the shock to set in.

"If you send a soldier suffering from mental distress due to physical exhaustion for an extended convalescence," he continued, "he has time to brood and his cure may take far longer."

"But give him just a few days' rest in the battle zone and some drug such as luminal or veronal to relax taut nerves and you soon have him back to normal."

Speed Grain Shipments

Movement Of Wheat, Oats And Barley For Eastern Canada

In order to speed up the movement of wheat, oats and barley for feed for livestock in Eastern Canada, grain containing up to one per cent. dockage may now be shipped direct from country points in Western Canada without stop off for cleaning at Fort William or Port Arthur, the Feeds Administrator has announced.

This concession, he said, is an emergency measure only and is intended to help relieve the bottleneck due to congested facilities at the lake head terminals. Such grain will be eligible for free freight and other subsidies which are now in effect.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

ABIDING VALUES FROM ISRAEL'S HISTORY

Golden text: Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people. Proverbs 14:34.
Lesson: Deuteronomy, Chapters 1-5, Chapter 11.
Devotional Reading: Deuteronomy 10:12-22.

Explanations and Comments
An Appeal Based on God's Goodness, Deuteronomy 11:1-9. The first six verses of this chapter recount what God had done for the Israelites in saving them from the Egyptians, and then stop abruptly for, as verse seven declares, "But your eyes have seen all the great acts of the Lord which he did," and the next verse begins with "Therefore." Therefore, because of their experience of God's goodness to them, they must keep all his commandments. As the result of their keeping the commandments they will be strong, and can go in and possess the land.

The Promised Inheritance, Deuteronomy 11:10-12. It was a rich land that they were to possess, luxurious in pasture and profuse in flowers, as attested by its abundance of milk and honey. It was not as the land of Egypt, where they sowed their seed and then had to water it with their foot. (This was done by raising the water from the Nile by means of pumps whose treadwheels were worked with the foot, or by diverting water into channels whose separating ridges were broken down, or whose sluices were opened, by the feet.) The land to which they were going was watered by rain from heaven. The Israelites Could Hope to Prosper if They Served the Lord, Deuteronomy 11:13-17. If they loved and served God with all their heart and soul, they would be rewarded by the former and the latter rain, the two rainy seasons of Palestine, which would enable them to gather in their grain, their wine, and their oil. The "former rain" falls in late October or early November, when the seed is sown; the "latter rain" in March-April, before the harvest. Unlike Egypt, the fertility of Canaan was not the reward of human labor and skill in irrigation, but was the result of rain from heaven. Without the autumn rain the seed would not quicken and grow, and without the spring rain there would be no "full corn in the ear." Should they turn aside and worship and serve other gods, Jehovah's anger would be against them, no rain would fall, and they would perish.

"Let us remember that there is no method of obtaining God's protection but adherence to his laws." (Gladstone).

Aid To Russia

Britain Sending Large Consignments Of Warm Clothing

The British Government's decision to allocate £2 1/2 million toward the cost of providing clothes for Russia—the other half-million pounds being met by Mrs. Churchill's Red Cross Aid to Russia Fund—has resulted in the purchase of a large variety of goods, including heavy woollen cloth, sheepskin and fur coats, pull-overs, men's and women's suits, dresses and overcoats. Large consignments have already been sent out, and will be followed by others as shipping becomes available. This, when shortage of such supplies in Great Britain necessitates such rationing that if a woman bought one pair of full-fashioned stockings a month, and one dress and one pair of shoes a year, she would have no coupon left to buy other clothes!

Locomotives For Russia

Britain Has Dispatched A Number For Use Of Army

Britain has dispatched a substantial number of her best locomotives to help the Russian Army, and has done fine engineering work in opening up transportation through Persia on the southern route to Russia.

As early as November 10th, 1943, the 1,000th freight car built by the Southern Railway Company in Great Britain to carry supplies to Russia through Persia was sent on its way. Working all day and night, men and women finished the work in two weeks, with the co-operation of other railway companies which helped with materials. In peacetime, the same output would be scheduled for twelve-month work.

CHAPTER III

WHEN the coach was ready Jonathan ordered his own horse brought out and the reins fastened to the rear of the vehicle. "I am going with these people, Master Knowles. Therefore, if the gentleman I left upstairs inquires my identity, you will be telling no untruth if you state that I am a member of Mistress Jamieson's entourage."

"He shall not have your name from me, Jonathan," Knowles promised. "But you will have to drive fast if you expect to reach London ahead of him. The gentleman came here on horseback and it will not take him long to overtake you."

Nevertheless, in spite of the warning, Jonathan took the road out of Wimsnet that led toward London. At Denys, on the coachman's seat beside young Hale, was nervous.

"Better use that whip, M. Hale," he advised, peering over his shoulder at the town they were leaving behind. "That fellow will find clothes of some sort and will be after us like the devil himself."

Jonathan smiled. "We need not worry about pursuing the fellow who overtook me as I am turning off this highway. Mistress Anne is in no condition to travel. I have left her in your care, where she will be safe and can rest while our friend, his lordship, is cutting this road and the London streets."

"Blen!" Relief and appreciation of the simple statement evoked a spontaneous laugh from the little Frenchman.

THE Hale farmhouse was in darkness when Jonathan drove into the yard. A shepherd dog barked a welcome, and as Jonathan climbed down from the coach a shutter clicked and a voice inquired: "Is that you, Jonathan?"

"Yes, grandfather," he responded. "I have brought you, and one of them is a lady suffering from shock and injury."

Once again Anne had to be carried. A light appeared in a window and Thomas Hale, a stooped gaunt man, had the door open when Jonathan reached the house.

Grudgingly, the old man shuffled aside to permit them entrance. In the kitchen was Faith, a stout, plain-faced girl, and at a word from Jonathan she lighted the way to her own bedroom with the counterpane. Jonathan drew back the sheets and counterpane and covered Anne after Jonathan had lowered the girl's head to the pillow.

"I am sorry for the trouble I am causing," Anne smiled, and her eyes sought Jonathan. "This is your sister."

"This is Faith Meade," said Jonathan. "An orphan whom my mother raised from a baby. Er—Faith and I are to be married in a few days." Anne's gaze returned to the blond girl, then her slim fingers stole out to rest on the square, work-redened hand smoothing the counterpane. "You are very fortunate, Mistress Faith. Jonathan will make you a good husband."

"Yes," Faith nodded matter-of-factly. "He can outwork any man."

WHEN NERVOUS TROUBLES MAKE ME SHAKY I FIND DR. MILES NERVINE HELPS TO RELIEVE NERVOUS TENSION AND CALM JITTERY FEELINGS

There's plenty these days to make people nervous. And overtaxed nerves can turn nights and days into misery! If you suffer in this way, try the soothing, quieting effect of Dr. Miles Nervine which contains well-known nerve sedatives. Take Nervine according to directions for help in general nervousness, sleeplessness, hysterical conditions, nervous fears, also to help headache and irritability due to nervousness. In the meantime, eat only light food, get your vitamins and take sufficient rest. Effervescent Nervine Tablets are 35c and 75c. Nervine Liquid: 25c and $1.00.

Jonathan, catching sight of that momentarily exposed throat, to drive in with murderous intent? Had it been jealousy?

WITH the morning Mistress Jamieson's injured ankle had recovered to such an extent that she was able to walk with no more than a trace of a limp.

Like Jonathan, her stay at the Knowles Tavern had been forced by the storm, and for the coach was found to have been unnecessary to touch for an overnight stay. From the wardrobe the actress replaced the clothes she had been forced to abandon.

Jonathan followed the Frenchman and the two girls out when the coach was ready.

"You are certain it is safe to leave?" he asked.

"Yes," Denys nodded. "Moreover, we intend to enter London from the direction least expected. The milord shall not molest us again."

The Frenchman climbed into the driver's seat and gathered up the reins. Estelle was already in the coach. "Good-by, Jonathan," Anne extended a hand and said to him, "I hope you find America to your liking." As her fingers fell into his great palm she stepped clear of the coach and before he had divined her intention she kissed him squarely on the mouth.

"Thank you, Jonathan," she murmured, her lips moving against his, for all you have done for us. Please remember me as the lady you thought me in the beginning."

She attempted to free her hand, then paused, startled at the expression on his face. Before she could step back Jonathan swept her into his arms, crushing her close to him, his lips seeking hers once more.

"Jonathan! Jonathan!" she pleaded, struggling in his grasp. "Please—let me go!"

Slowly he released her and remained standing there while Anne snatched the coach and the vehicle drove off.

"Jonathan," said another voice, and Faith Meade was beside him, peering anxiously into his face. "Jonathan!" Her hand brushed his arm lightly. "You are trembling, Jonathan."

Jonathan has an argument with his grandfather.

Canadian Labels

Carry Distinctive Symbol

Canadian-made war supplies to the United Nations are going to carry the name "Canada" emblazoned in Chinese, Russian and English in the future, the mutual aid board announced.

The new insignia for Canadian war exports is in the form of a circular sticker centred on a maple leaf and designed in red, blue and gold. The name "Canada" in three languages edges the circle. Distribution of the stickers is being handled by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Under the mutual aid plan, made-in-Canada products will be available to China, Russia, the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, India, the French Committee of National Liberation, the Caribbean area and possibly to other United Nations.

The new label is intended to convey to Allies the story of Canadian sympathetic co-operation and develop new kinship that will outlast the war, the board said in its announcement.

Pies Without Pastry.

Graham Wafers Overcome The Shortening Shortage.

(By Molly O'Dale)

There's no reason in the world why your family should not enjoy delicious pies for dessert, despite the scarcity of rationed butter and other shortenings. Here's a pie crust that requires no shortening of any kind and tender, delicious pie crust that comes ready-made straight out of a cardboard package—no flour, no rolling, no fuss whatever.

First, get a package of Christie's Graham Wafers. Then place a layer of wafers on the bottom of a lightly-greased pie-plate, trimming some of them to fit the shape, and filling in any uncovered spaces with water crumbs. Cut other wafers in halves and stand them on edge around the sloping side of the pie-plate. And there's your pie-crust!

Don't be skeptical as to whether the pie crust will hang together when the individual pieces are cut after the filling goes in. It will! Just try it and see for yourself. You'll find that each individual wedge of pie comes off intact. For the filling of Christie's Graham Wafer Pie, use one of the following recipes:

1. Chocolate Filling
  - 3 tablespoons corn starch
  - 2 cups milk
  - 5 tablespoons sugar
  - 1 square chocolate or 4 tablespoons cocoa
  - ¼ teaspoon vanilla
2. Vanilla Filling
  - 3 tablespoons corn starch
  - 2 cups milk
  - 5 tablespoons sugar
  - 1 teaspoon butter
  - Pinch of salt
  - ¼ teaspoon vanilla or a few drops of maple

Caramelize sugar by heating over direct fire in top part of double boiler until it becomes a golden brown syrup. Remove from fire and add ½ cup of milk and stir over lower part of double boiler. Mix corn starch and salt with remaining cold milk to make a smooth paste. Pour hot milk into paste and stir thoroughly. Four back into double boiler and heat until it begins to thicken, stirring constantly. After it thickens smoothly, cover and cook for 10 minutes. Stir occasionally. Remove from fire and add butter and vanilla. Pour into crust and chill. Chopped nuts or dates may be added, if available.

1. Apple Chiffon Filling
  - 1 tablespoon plain gelatin
  - ¼ cup cold water
  - 2 cups sweetened hot applesauce
  - ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
  - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
  - Pinch of salt and 2 egg whites
2. Apple Chiffon Filling
  - Soak gelatin in water 5 minutes. Then add to hot applesauce and stir until dissolved. Stir in nutmeg, lemon juice, salt and chill until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour filling into crust, sprinkle with graham wafer crumbs and chill.

IRON LUNG FROM SCRAP

How naval artificers at Gibraltar made an "iron lung" out of scrap and saved a man's life was described by Sir Sheldon F. Dudley, medical director-general of the British navy. The man was attacked by infantile paralysis at a time when the only lung on the Rock was in use, he said. Naval artificers used scrap metal to copy the lung and it worked perfectly.

Teaches Motorcycle Mechanics To Troops

Practical lessons in motorcycle mechanics will be given hundreds of Canadian Army officers and men by instructors of the new mobile motorcycle maintenance school, now touring camps across the country. In this view Sgt. J. N. Rae, of Calgary, an instructor, checks the work of Pte. J. D. Hisey, of Edmonton (centre) and Pte. Ernie Clements, of Montreal.

Intrepid motorcyclists a few years ago; now among Canada's most travelled soldiers.

And it isn't such a long step from one to the other! Ask the three instructors of the newly-formed Canadian Motorcycle Maintenance School—a mobile house of knowledge which is touring camps from one end of the country to the other.

Hundreds of Army officers, N.C.O.'s and men will learn maintenance and repair short-cuts from these professors of motorcycle mechanics before the end of the year.

This new role for instructors. Lieut. C. G. E. Downing, of Swift Current, Sask.; Sgt. Gordon Davies, of Toronto; and Sgt. J. N. Rae, of Calgary, is the culmination of years of tinkering with temperamental pre-war "bikes" and practical experience with the Army's sleek, new mounts.

All three owned "bikes" before the war and were well-grounded in motorcycle mechanics before they enlisted. Sgt. Davies, a veteran ride of fifteen years standing, was active in motorcycle clubs in Toronto. The mobile unit was proposed six months ago in answer to a demand from units for instruction in motorcycle mechanics. Lieut. Downing, a graduate in mechanical engineering from the University of Saskatchewan and second-in-command of the Motorcycle Maintenance School at Barrie, Ont., was named to command the unit. His assistants were hand-picked.

With three quarters of a ton of equipment aboard, two standard Army station wagons headed out of Kingston, Ont., early in July. The mobile Canadian Motorcycle Maintenance School was officially born; and one of the longest tours in Canadian military history started.

Present schedule of the unit calls for a jaunt to the Atlantic seaboard and then a swing back to western military districts. Practically every unit in Canada will be visited by the mobile school before the end of the tour.

The school will stop one week with each unit. In that time, the entire field of motorcycle mechanics will be surveyed and students given an opportunity to match wits in a mechanical way with experts.

Equipment carried by the vans includes a complete motorcycle, two cut-away models of motorcycle engines, a "bike" transmission and a model lighting system. A check-board and a number of charts are utilized for lectures.

Drivers of the unit's station wagons are Pte. J. D. Hisey, of Edmonton, and Pte. Ernie Clements, of Montreal.

CANADIAN PACIFIC AIRLINES

When Capt. P. D. Iverson brought his airliner to a stop in Regina airport, August 31, after a successful flight from Saskatoon, it marked attainment by a airline division of Canadian Pacific Air Lines of 100 per cent efficiency for the month of August. The division had flown 31,636 miles, or roughly the equivalent of one and a quarter times around the world at the equator. Not one scheduled mile had been lost. Six hundred and thirty-one passengers had been carried; 6,029 pounds of mail delivered. This in six-line parlance, amounted to 96,113 pounds-miles of mail. No flights were cancelled because of weather, though August brought a number of thunderstorms along the route between Regina, Moose Jaw, Saskatoon and North Battleford, and Prince Albert. Shown above is Capt. Iverson, First Officer H. E. Thorn, W. T. Bunn, flying assistant superintendent, and H. T. Bancroft, supervisor.

NOT PAYING OUR WAY

Alberta is going behind at the rate of $3,200,000 a year. That is the amount of Alberta's bond interest which the Alberta government refuses to pay.

We could pay if we wished—or we could secure a rewriting of Alberta's bonded indebtedness and pay the full amount of the interest under the refunding agreement.

But right now we have the money and we still refuse to pay. The government at Edmonton announced with a flourish the other day that, in the fiscal year ended last March, the province had a surplus of $6,373,063. But that surplus included $3,200,000 of money which the government still owed. We could have paid it and still had a surplus of more than $3,000,000 out of a revenue for the year of nearly $28,000,000. Alberta right now is rich and ought to be paying its debts or making a new agreement with its creditors. Instead of that, we boast of having more money than ever before and still refuse to pay those who loaned us money when they thought we were an honest people.

Perhaps in these days of Hitler and Hirohito and other leaders who refuse to co-operate with the rest of the world it is too much to expect that Alberta would be honest in its dealings with the world, too. But when we have six million dollars' surplus and refuse to pay three millions that we owe, we haven't much to brag about.—Leithbridge Herald.

WOULD LIKE TO GO TO DANCES, BUT...

High River, Alta.
Editor, High River Times.

Dear Sir: In your issue of September 9th you bemoan the fact that more of the town people did not patronize the Smokes' Fund dance. Now I am well along in life but still like to dance if I get a chance. The dances as they are run nowadays are all catering to the jitterbugs. If the people who run these dances would put on three or four old time dances to give the older element a chance to exercise their terpsichorean accomplishments, no doubt you would get more patronage from them. Nobody wants to sit all night and watch the jitterbugs go through their contortions, because there is nothing pleasant listening to the blatant blarney music they employ.

So, Mr. Editor, put in a plug for more old-time stuff.—J.J.R.

THE FREE FRENCH COLUMN

The weight of Nazi oppression bears more heavily on the people of France each day as Germany feels the whole of occupied Europe twisting more and more impatiently in its chains, but the underground armies are not intimidated. The orders of its officers remain the same: "Action against the invader and his Vichy accomplices must take place in every conceivable form."

Determination to continue the unflinching struggle is expressed in a proclamation drawn up by a French patriot, and reproduced throughout the whole of the clandestine press.

It says, in part, "The Council of Resistance, uniting patriotic activities throughout the country, bringing all trends of French political thought together through the common quality of passionate love of country, is constituted to give authentic voice to the French will, and unquestioned discipline to the deeds of patriots."

"Against the enemy, against treason, the council has undertaken, in direct co-operation with the French Committee of Liberation, and faithful to the doctrine of Fighting France, the task of inspiring, co-ordinating and directing the battle of the French people on their own soil."

"The effort of the French people toward their deliverance is carried out with a firm resolve, courage, contempt, and a perseverance in the matter of risk-taking that no sacrifice can crush, and which will persist, obstinately, until the day when so much heroism will be justified."

"The council salutes with sorrow, with respect, with affection, those who have fallen, and those who will fall on the long road which leads to victory."

"Today, the most urgent task is to fight, to prevent deportation. It is the duty of every French man and woman to do everything to hinder the departure for Germany of the French youth, of whom the invader demands, today work, tomorrow blood."

SUGGESTS SINGING HYMNS AS SPEEDOMETER CLIMBS

The motorist with any regard for his future abode "should sing hymns as the speedometer climbs upward," a clergyman recently pointed out in a safety sermon.

His selections at the different speeds:

"At 25 miles per hour, I'm But a Stranger Here, Heaven is My Home; at 45 miles, Nearer My God To Thee; at 55 miles, I'm Nearing the Port and Will Soon be Home; at 65 miles, When the Roll is Called Up Yonder I'll Be There, and at 75 miles, Lord I'm Coming Home."

Hubby: "Well, I suppose you're plenty angry because I came home with this black eye last night?"

Wife (sweetly): "Not at all, dear. You may not remember it, but when you came home you didn't have that black eye."

A STRANGE COINCIDENCE

The long arm of coincidence becomes longer and more extraordinary during war. For then the customary boundaries and restrictions of peace are withdrawn and the unimaginable becomes fact. Hark to this story from North Africa. A British Tommy in Libya came upon a partially destroyed German tank. Being of a curious turn of mind he began to inspect it. The radio, which had escaped damage, was there and "just for fun I turned it on." Here comes the fantastic part of the yarn, which is vouched for by the BBC in London. The first words out of that Teutonic radio set in Libya were the words of that Tommy's wife in England. Mrs. Tommy was broadcasting on a BBC program which permits wives to "say, a few words to their husbands in the armed forces." This particular message was delivered to hubby with singular directness. Or as Tommy put it, "Blimey, there was me Missus talking just like she does at home." Such is coincidence. Gold is where you find it, and so it would appear, is your wife's voice—in modern war.—London Free Press.

WHY WORRY?

I wonder why folks worry. There are only two reasons for worry!

Either you are successful or you are not successful. If you are successful there is nothing to worry about; if you are not successful there are only two things to worry you. Your health is either good or you are sick; if your health is good there is nothing to worry about; if you are sick there are only two things to worry about. You are either going to get well or you are going to die. If you are going to get well there is nothing to worry about; if you are going to die there are only two things to worry about. You are either going to heaven or you are going to hell. If you are going to heaven there is nothing to worry about; if you are going to the other place you'll be damned busy shaking hands with old friends you won't have time to worry—so why worry?

There are daily "rags" that appear now and then, but never daily. They are not a credit to any community or district—just an eyesore.

Corbin coal seams now being developed are 6,100 feet above sea level. About forty big highway trucks are drawing the coal to McGillivray station where it is loaded on trains for shipment to market.

An exchange says: We just heard of a butcher who is making little sausages that are meat at one end and bread at the other—because in times like these it's hard to make both ends meet.

Fire that broke out near the Blairmore nuisance ground on Friday afternoon was soon under control by the Blairmore firemen and others. For a time it looked very threatening with the heavy wind blowing.

Mount Baker Forest Products, Ltd., Vancouver, incorporated this summer, have acquired extensive timber limits in the vicinity of Baker Mountain, east of Cranbrook, and will ship fuel woods to the prairie market. A fairly good market could be had right in this district.

Because he thought a councillor of the town should not have authorized expenditure for the purpose of building a sidewalk in town without a by-law having been passed, or without a resolution of the council, that councillor was prosecuted by another member of the council. The latter lost his case and had to pay the costs, around $13.

Angus MacPherson, most successful undertaker in London, went home to Scotland on a visit. The little old town was unchanged, and the people honored him with a banquet. In appreciation he went up and said: "Ladies and gentlemen, I want to do something for this community. There is only one thing I can do well, and that is to bury people. The MacPhersons are known all over the British Isles for their thoroughness, so I am going to give a free and complete first-rate burial to the first person who dies in this town after my arrival." Then he sat down and everyone went home. That night thirty-six Scotchmen committed suicide.

Many from this district attended the big roundup-stampedede at Pincher Creek on Wednesday, including Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beebe, Mrs. D. Walker and Kathleen, and Mrs. A. Blake.

It is quite apparent that the people of Canada today are giving more thought to the social, economic and political future of the Dominion than they have for some years past. The same situation exists in most, if not all, of the Allied world. Nor is there anything unusual about it. A brief glance over the pages of history will show that wars have always stimulated ideas and activity of a political nature. The first Great War brought its political activity and upheavals. This war is likely to do the same.

WINTER COAL WILL BE SCARCE NEXT WINTER !!!

Prepare your home now for adequate warmth with smaller fuel consumption

TO SAVE COAL CHECK THESE POINTS

✓ HOW TO GET MORE HEAT

Pipes and furnaces must be clean, and grates in good order. If one or two rooms are hard to heat, you are wasting fuel. A minor adjustment can probably remedy this. Have a competent man check your heating system, and make necessary repairs. Insulate your furnace and pipes when necessary.

✓ HOW TO AVOID HEAT LOSSES

Storm windows and doors must fit snugly and be weatherstripped. Lack of storm windows can cause as much as 20% heat loss. Caulking should be done around windows, doors and in cracks in brick work (some hardware stores have caulking guns for rent). Broken glass should be replaced, and loose panes putted. Small expenditures on such work will save much fuel.

✓ HOW TO SAVE STILL MORE

You can save fuel and money by having your home properly insulated. It is a proven fact that in many homes lack of adequate insulation (including storm windows) results in unnecessary consumption of fuel—up to as much as 50%. Watch for later instructions on how to fire your furnace properly.

HAVE YOUR HOME INSPECTED FOR HEATING AND INSULATION DEFECTS

The Fifth Victory Loan

CANADA'S FIFTH VICTORY LOAN has an objective of $1,300,000,000. This is the minimum cash objective, but it is anticipated that like the four previous loan objectives it will be greatly exceeded. The sum which is asked from individual subscribers is $525,000,000, while the remainder will be solicited from a special list composed of large business firms and corporations. This is the largest objective yet set for a Victory Loan drive and it exceeds the last one, held last spring, by $100,000,000. It will mean, as it did in the four previous loans, that a maximum effort must be put forth by each individual, if the loan is to be a success, as it is sure to be. Canada's armed forces have increased steadily in numbers and strength, and to maintain them there must be full financial support from the people at home.

Severe Struggle Is Still Ahead

Finance Minister Daley in announcing the Victory Loan campaign, warned the people of the Dominion against complacency, because of recent Allied victories. In this connection, he said: "Although recent war news has been extremely favorable, I am sure that Canadians know that a severe and costly struggle is ahead. Our fighting forces are at full grips with the enemy and I am confident that Canadians at home will lend their full support to the purchase of Canada's Fifth Victory Loan bonds." Canadian troops in action have shown themselves to be of the highest calibre and they have received unreserved praise from all sides. Much of their success is due to their splendid training and equipment, all of which depends financially on the people on the home front.

Canada Praised By Churchill

In his recent historic radio address from Quebec City, Prime Minister Churchill dwelt for some time on Canada's contribution to the war, and gave some facts and figures which may have surprised some of us who were not fully aware of what is being done here. In relation to the size of her population, Canada's war effort is amazing, and to reach the proportions it has, whole-hearted financial support has been necessary. This has been supplied by the people of Canada, chiefly through increased taxation and the Victory Loans. We now have a further opportunity to show to ourselves and to the world, that this Dominion is prepared to support to the limit the mighty effort which is now being made to restore peace and order throughout the world.

DESSERTS

You may use the dessert course to include some of the protective foods especially milk, fruit eggs and whole grain cereals. These are important sources of minerals, vitamins and flavour as well as energy.

If your main part of the meal is light such as soup, salad or sandwich then you should serve a substantial dessert. This group includes batter puddings with sauce, pastries, preserves and cake, waffles, fruit frozen desserts. You can use this basic recipe for biscuit dough.

2 cups flour 1 tsp. sugar ½ tsp. fat
1 tsp. baking powder ½ tsp. salt ½ cup milk or water
Mix, sift dry ingredients. Cut in fat. Add liquid gradually to make a soft dough. Knead 30 seconds on floured board and pat to ½" thickness. You may use whole wheat flour ½" thick and white dough. Add flavouring, turn into molds and chill. You may alter the flavouring by adding fruit, caramel, maple or chocolate syrup, almond or lemon extract.

You should serve light desserts such as custard, junket, fruit, water ice or gelatin after a heavy dinner. We will consider custards today, they are divided into two groups, soft and baked custards. You will find the difference in the consistency depends on the preparation of the liquid and the method of cooking. I will give you a basic recipe for custard to which you may add chocolate, caramel, fruit or coffee to alter the flavouring.

1½ cups milk ¼ tsp. salt
2-3 tbsp. cornstarch ¼ tsp. sugar
¼ tsp. vanilla

Mix cornstarch, salt and sugar. Add ¼ cup of cold milk and mix thoroughly. Scald rest of milk. Add this to cornstarch mixture carefully. Cook in double boiler minutes or longer until there is no taste of raw starch, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Add flavouring, turn into molds and chill. You may alter the flavouring by adding fruit, caramel, maple or chocolate syrup, almond or lemon extract.

2 cups milk ¼ tsp. sugar
2 whole eggs or 4 yolks ¼ tsp. vanilla
Salt

Beat eggs, add sugar and stir until blended. Add hot milk and strain. Cook in a double boiler stirring until the mixture coats the spoon. Cool, add flavouring.

The same ingredients are used but if the custard is to be turned into a mold cut the milk down to 1½ cups.

SERVICE CHEVRONS

Each black service chevron on a soldier's sleeve means a complete year of service in the present war. A silver "stripe" below them means that the officer or man was appointed or enlisted before September 10, 1940.

"City of a thousand steeples," Montreal, Quebec, is also famous for its towering St. Joseph's Shrine, situated on the slopes of Mount Royal.

Improve Your Health by Correcting Sluggish KIDNEYS

This Way Is Swift, Economical

GOLD MEDAL Capsules contain accurately measured amounts of the natural and gentle Hazelden Oil (Dutch Drops). You will be greatly surprised at the way they relieve kidney and bladder troubles. Go to your drug store and get a 40c box. Be sure you ask for GOLD MEDAL Hazelden Oil Capsules.

Obscene Literature

B.C. Druggists Refuse To Handle Questionable Publications

British Columbia druggists, who are also, in quite a large way, dealers in periodicals, are to be congratulated upon their decision not to sell salacious literature. There are a lot of magazines that depend for their circulation upon the sexy nature of the stories and articles they contain. They skirt the edge of obscenity and so succeed in escaping the law, but the harm they do is practically as great as though they overstepped the bounds.

These periodicals appeal mostly to the immature, and, as the B.C. Pharmaceutical Association found, are purchased largely by boys and girls of high school age—the very people who can be most harmed by their suggestive and unwholesome nature. The law can hardly touch these vile publications. They know how to elude it rather than inside it. But if dealers refuse to handle them their means of contacting their patrons will be gone and they will wither away. The druggists are showing the way. If other newswriters would only follow they would be conferring a favor on the rising generation.

SMILE AWHILE

Mrs. Grimm—So you have a job with my friend, Mrs. Long. Did you tell her that you had only been with me two weeks? Maid—Yes, ma'am, and she said if I could stay two weeks with you that was reference enough for her.

Lady—That parrot I bought here swears frightfully.

Dealer—I don't deny, madam, that he uses violent language. But you must admit he doesn't drink or smoke.

Host—Talking about Africa makes me think of the time—

Bored Guest—Good gracious, you're quite right! I had no idea it was so late. Good-bye.

Judge (questioning elderly woman who saw the wreck): "Isn't it true that the plaintiff made only a cursory examination of his damaged car?"

Woman: "Good gracious, yes, it was so curious I had to put my hands over my ears."

A writer on the pastimes says that is not known who invented the game of golf. One theory is that it was a Scottish woman who objected to her husband drinking at home.

Little Mary had been for a walk in the country. When she arrived home, her mother asked her if she had enjoyed her walk. She answered: "Oh, yes, Mummy. I had a lovely walk, but isn't it funny what a lot of cottages are called 'No Eggs'?"

"What's that building?" asked the stranger. "That's the asylum for the blind," said the native.

"Go on, you can't fool me," said the stranger. "What's all their windows for?"

"You've made a mistake in your paper," said the indignant man, entering the editorial sanctum. "I was one of the competitors at the athletic match yesterday, and you have called me the well-known lightweight champion."

"Well, aren't you?" said the editor.

"No, I'm nothing of the kind, and it's confoundingly awkward, because you see, I'm a coal merchant."

Teacher—Joe, who were the Pilgrim Fathers? Jim—Durned if I know! I always do get those religious orders balled up.

"Do you have matins at this church," asked the visitor.

"We used to have," replied the vergor, "but the new vicar tripped over them, so 'e put down a carpet."

Our Boys And Girls On Active Service

(By Ottawa Observer)

It's a different war the navy boys find. Before going ashore to keep a date nowadays a fellow has to get the approval of the officer of the day as to appearance. Shoes must be shined, faced shaved, hair groomed, and if you don't believe us, ask Stoker Benny Bennett of Timmins, Ont. He was ready to hop into port somewhere, and after the officer checked him over, he had to scurry around and find a barber first.

Something new has been added. A number of CWACs are to get a course of instruction in Videa, Training and Training at McGill University. Some from every Military district and some from basic training centres.

Flight Sergeant Jack Hughes, a former taxi driver of Dauphin, Man., will always remember his last flight in Sicily before being off to Blighty. The R.C.A.F. man was over his target when a wing of his plane was blown off by ack-ack, and he went into a deadly "roll". How he did it no one knows, because he should have been a "gone goose", but damned if he didn't bring the one armed ship into a landing at an unheard of speed of 240 miles an hour. He's now back in Blighty after thumbing his nose at the old man with the scythe.

One of Canada's newest fighting ships has a mascot named "Skipper", that is the pride of the Navy. He's a pint-sized ferret, and he governs the crew just like a commanding officer.

Leading Airwoman Pat Joelin of Kitchener, Ont., was passing through London, Eng. to her bomber group of the R.C.A.F. with a cousin L.A. Mary Barr of Simcoe, Ont. Sitting on a pile of luggage, she smiled brother, Lieut. Thos. Joelin, whom she hadn't seen for three years. She dashed wildly into the crowd, but imagine, her brother was away in the underground (subway) before she got to him. Tough luck that.

Among the many deserved decorations recently awarded Canadian Fliers were Distinguished Flying Medals to Flight Sergeant H. E. Patch of Vegreville, Alberta, and Flight Sergeant A. P. East of Langley Prairie, B.C. These join the brilliant list of exploits by lads who a few years ago had never stepped in a plane.

Soon to be sub-lieutenants in the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve is the first class of young Canadian Officers to graduate from H.M.S. Cornwallis in Nova Scotia. They will be going to action stations in the Atlantic, and will probably give as good account of themselves as their young countrymen who are in the sea. Puffer of Rosemont, Sask. Navy officials in Ottawa never cease marveling at the boys from the prairies make such splendid sailors. Fellows who have had very little if any chance to learn their legs. As a matter of fact, most of them had never been on a boat before joining the Navy. They are like girl sailors, too, specifically the Wrens. Two who couldn't get on the troop ship fast enough, they fast enough at an English port, were Wrens Reta Clements of Pine Falls, Manitoba, who used to be a stenographer, and Dorothy Hill, of Meadow Lake, Sask. These girls were in the first group of Wrens to get across the briny.

Keep writing the boys and girls from home. That's the best present you can send them, although they do love the nice candy stuff. Industrial firms can also help in moralism. One firm we know of which has 71 former employees in the service, sends out a regular "comfort" to them weekly on the domestic front. The company says they get more kick out of that than the newspaper headlines.

Many of you will want to know what this "link training plan" for the army is, now that all army basic training centres in Canada are being reorganized to release the maximum of men. Briefly, recruits will receive their B.T. at a centre designed for their particular branch of the service, instead of to a general centre where they are to be trained. Men not of combatant soldier standards will be discharged from the army.

Empire Study

Britain To Supply Special Courses In School On Empire Affairs

British school-children are to learn more about the Empire. More than 100 teachers from state schools are spending their holidays in York, where they are attending a special course on Empire affairs. The Board of Education plans to hold these schools on the Empire for teachers in all parts of the United Kingdom, where they will be able to pass on to their pupils a more vital outlook on Empire affairs. Lecturers include Mr. L. S. Amery, Secretary of State for India, who opened the course with a talk on India.

I STOPPED "DOSING" MY CONSTIPATION AND CORRECTED THE CAUSE!

© In these busy days of war you owe it to your country—as well as to yourself—to keep "in the pink". That's why it's so important to avoid the common type of constipation caused by lack of "bulk" in the diet. And do it by getting right at the cause instead of "dosing" with harsh purgatives that give only temporary relief. Just follow this simple plan. Eat

KELOLOG'S ALL-BRAN every day! It's delicious as a cereal or in hot, iced, or cold drinks. Drink plenty of water. Then see if you don't agree ALL-BRAN is the "better way" to natural regularity. But remember, eat ALL-BRAN every day! Grocers have ALL-BRAN in two convenient sizes. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Sisters Receive Their Commissions

Working their way up through the ranks of the Canadian Women's Army Corps, the above sisters recently received their commissions.

Miss Bernice Soper, among the first girls to volunteer for service in Sept. 1941, and having served in all ranks received her commission in March, 1943. This was followed immediately by the cadet course, and she received her commission on June 6, 1943, at the first graduation ceremony held at St. Anne's this year. She is now posted as Platoon Officer in Montreal, Que. 2nd. Lieut. Soper, although registered nurse, preferred to join the ranks as a private and work up the hard way. Both girls enlisted in Edmonton, Alta., and started their army career in Calgary.

Cover Wide Range For Mechanized Troops

Great Variety Of Goods Found In "Dead Letter Parcels"

Post office officials have sorted and packed a great accumulation of cosmetics, silk stockings and best sellers in preparation for the sale of "dead letter parcels."

The sale is held every two years, after every bit of ingenuity has been used in attempting to locate either the person to whom the parcel was addressed or the sender.

Officials who sorted materials to be sold said the accumulation was sufficient to start a lingerie shop, equip several automobiles apart from the heaviest equipment, supply a kitchen or two with all the hardware needed and keep a tobacco store in cigarettes for a considerable period.

The money from the sale goes to the receiver-general of Canada in the same way as cash and money orders from letters whose owners cannot be traced.

"We've had everything from a small ship anchor to a safety pin," said one official. "We've had the occasional dead animal—and an imitation mink coat. Cosmetics of every kind have been found, with razors, fountain pens, food of all kinds, every variety of tobacco, skis, kaitans, hairpins, manicure sets and pills and tonics in immense array."

Don't Say "Hello" To Soldiers Who Are Driving Army Vehicles

In official military parlance it's a very long story, outlined in terminology that is as legal as it is specific in content but, in short, it's: "Don't say 'Hello' to a soldier driving an Army truck or motor cycle—that is, with it in motion."

That's the rule for soldiers, the drivers in particular. Says the pointed paragraph:

"No driver of a mechanical vehicle will pay compliments while actually: (a) Driving a vehicle, or (b) acting as instructor to a learner who is driving."

These are rules for mechanized troops. The moral—Discipline. The effect—nobility speaks but the instructor. Result—efficiency.

Sugar was regarded only as a medicine in the English-speaking world before the middle of the 18th Century. Then, it was hard to take. Now, it is hard to get.

More Ships Are Available For A Second Front

LONDON.—Naval success in the Mediterranean appeared to have put the Allies in a position to realize by November their goal of 10,000,000 tons of shipping to support a second front in Europe.

Turning the Mediterranean into an Anglo-American lake also had a subsidiary effect—the possible immediate release of a half dozen capital ships and accompanying cruisers, carriers, destroyers and other vessels for the Pacific.

It was estimated unofficially that the Allies need at least 10,000,000 tons in the shipping pool for establishing and keeping a second front in western Europe.

Based on published construction and loss statements, the Allies probably gained about 3,500,000 net tons over losses since May 1 through the building program alone.

Another estimated 3,000,000 tons was made available through opening of the Mediterranean shipping route, eliminating longer hauls to Cairo and India. The shipping increment from Italy's capitulation may run between one and two million tons but it was not all clear yet since the bulk will be diverted for supplying the Italian people.

But the release of warships from the Mediterranean should reduce the margin between losses and building by reducing sinkings by Nazi U-boats in the Atlantic. Thus, on these calculations, the Allies already were within a million or two tons of the goal.

The Mediterranean victory probably removed the last chance for a major fleet engagement in European waters in this war. The only two Axis weapons remaining, outside of the Pacific, were U-boats and the penned up German fleet, which the British home fleet was assigned to keep under blockade.

Thus all major Allied naval strength from the Mediterranean became available for the Pacific with the exception of lighter units which presumably would be kept for protection of convoys in the Mediterranean and Atlantic.

REACH BRITAIN

Canadian Midshipmen Will Soon Be Serving In Royal Navy

A BRITISH PORT.—Canadian midshipmen, first class to graduate from the new Royal Naval college at Royal Roads, B.C., have arrived at the Canadian naval establishment here and soon will be serving in battleships and cruisers of the Royal Navy.

This is the first class of midshipmen to be sent over from Canada during the war. They average 19 years of age and come from all parts of the Dominion.

The two prize-winning midshipmen in the party are R. W. J. Cooke, of Victoria, who was chosen best all round cadet and G. L. Hopkins of Regina, who graduated highest in his class. Both were presented with watchkeeping certificates at the Canadian naval department.

Engineer sub-lieutenants have been added to Canada's ever-increasing complement of officers serving with the Royal Navy.

Products of the Dominion's universities and representing every section of Canada, these latest arrivals will undergo a period of training in warships of the Royal Navy. They average 23 and they have already undergone a term of initial training at a Canadian naval college.

They include: Alan Malcolm Cameron, Saskatoon; George Irvin Loucks, Invermay, Sask., and Francis William Carson, Saskatoon.

MEET GERMAN RAIDS

LONDON.—Anti-aircraft batteries along Britain's south and southeast coasts have been reorganized to meet Germany's northwest from monk raiding to high level bombing. Light anti-aircraft guns successfully countered the tip-and-run raiders and now it is the heavies that deal with high flying aircraft and fighter-bombers.

AIR RAID CASUALTIES

LONDON.—Civilian air raid casualties in Britain in August totalled 106 killed or missing, believed killed, and 164 injured and detained in hospital.

PUT UP BIG FIGHT

LONDON.—Hundreds of Germans and Croat Quiliches were killed in a big five-day battle at Karlovatz in Croatia before the Italian garrison of 10,000 was disarmed, a Reuters news agency despatch dated Cairo said.

MEN NEEDED

Recruitment For General Service Is Still Very Necessary

OTTAWA.—The Canadian army needs men and will continue to need them right up until the war ends, the Canadian Press has been informed on high authority.

Any conclusions drawn from the announcement of a reduction in the home operational establishment of the army to the effect that fewer men may be called up for military service in future or that it may be discharged from the forces are understood to be without foundation.

In announcing the reduction of the 7th and 8th and partial disbandment of the 9th divisions, Defence Minister Ralston said:

"It must be emphasized that the fact that there is to be a reduction in requirements for operational troops in Canada does not mean that the demand is reduced for overseas."

And later in the statement:

"The consequence is that there must be no let-up in the enlistment of men for general service. The new into the reinforcement stream must be steadily maintained to provide as planned for present and future action."

STABILIZING SICILY

Banks All Over The Island Are Open For Business

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa.—The Allied military government for occupied territories announced that banks all over Sicily have reopened, supported by special military currency brought in by occupation authorities.

A deposit was given the right to withdraw up to 5,000 lire (500), but no bank runs marked the opening. Officials said they hoped unlimited withdrawals could be arranged soon.

AFG announced that steps were being taken to overhaul Sicily's price control and rationing system to combat the black market while plans for industrial and commercial rehabilitation are being made.

TERROR CAMPAIGN

Nazis Would Undermine Any Resistance In Switzerland

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa.—The Nazis were reported to have circulated rumors that German troops may cross Switzerland and French patriots were said to have sabotaged the main railroad between Italy and France.

The Nazis apparently had started a terror campaign to undermine resistance in Switzerland should the German army be forced to send men and war materials across the neutral state into Italy.

The French underground was reported to have broken the railway into Italy about 18 miles from Chambery and it was expected that this would interrupt traffic between the countries for some time.

QUOTAS INCREASED

WINNIPEG.—New quotas, increasing wheat deliveries from three to five bushels at 160 points in the prairie provinces, were announced here by the Canadian wheat board. Thirty-seven of these points are in Manitoba, 52 in Saskatchewan and 71 in Alberta.

Italian People Are Reported To Be Starving

WITH THE CANADIANS IN THE CENTRAL MEDITERRANEAN.—The Eighth Army invasion of the Italian mainland confirms previous reports that the people of Italy are definitely hungry.

During the course of the campaign in Sicily the near-starvation conditions under which 3,500,000 Sicilians lived astonished Anglo-American-Canadian liberation forces. Reports from the southern mainland, where the Eighth Army, including Canadians, are now in control, show that things are not much different there.

Normally Sicily exports its wheat surplus to the Italian mainland, but this season there was not enough for Sicily itself, let alone the rest of Italy. Long tragic breadlines have been in evidence in all liberated cities.

The allied occupational government is trying hard to add people whose two decades of Fascism would not feed.

Your reporter has seen children at the family table making a complete meal of the kernel of hard wheat. Grapes are plentiful in the rural regions, which is a welcome addition to the very low diet of the people.

It is a pathetic sight to see old men trying to sell souvenirs to scrape up a bit of money to buy some food. Corkcreeves, brushed up family spoons, postcards, cameras, watches and numerous trinkets are the items they generally try to pass off on allied soldiers. Mussolini's Fascism never did properly feed these people and food is still their major lack today.

Dr. Churchill Makes "V" Sign

From the window of Sanders theatre at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., British Prime Minister Winston Churchill makes his famed "V for Victory" sign to gathered students of the university. He was awarded an honorary degree of doctor of laws by the university at a special convocation. In his address he pleaded for a post-war co-operation between the United States and Great Britain.

Heads Army Staff

Pictured somewhere in the North African war theatre is Lt. Col. C. S. Wallace, former Toronto and Edmonton newspaperman who is Deputy Director of Public Relations for Canadian forces in the field. He heads a staff of Army photographers and writers serving in that combat zone.

AID BRITISH FORCES

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS.—Italian soldiers are aiding British forces in the Taranto area on the heel of the Italian boot, where the first German parachute division was contacted around 30 miles north-west of Taranto, it was stated. The British have liberated 300 prisoners of war, including two Greek generals in the Taranto area, it was also revealed.

The Brenner pass, between Italy and Germany, has been called the "Thermopylae of the Tyrol."

EDUCATION OF YOUTH

Suggest Setting Up Of Advisory Council On School Broadcasting

QUEBEC.—Education should become the key to post-war reconstruction, Dr. J. S. Thomson, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said here in an address to the Canada and Newfoundland Education Association convention.

"As I understand it, the basic principle of the proposal for reconstruction rest upon the conviction that the real wealth of a nation is its people," he continued. "Surely the best method of conserving and developing this most valuable of our resources is the education of youth."

"This will involve the expenditure of money, but in a democratic society, the final control and direction of public spending is a reflection of what the people count as valuable."

R. B. Lambert, educational adviser of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, asked the approval of the convention of a plan for the setting up of a national advisory council on school broadcasting. The council, he said, would consist of 14 members: one for each province except Quebec (which would have two—one French and one English), one for the Confederation of Canadian Universities, one for the Canadian Teachers' Federation, and one for the National Federation of Home and School. In addition, the CBC would nominate a distinguished educationist as chairman.

After discussion, the suggestion was approved by the delegates, with the amendment that the number be raised to 16, adding a French-speaking representative of the university group and a second representing the Parents' Association.

"There is no need to elaborate on the future importance of school broadcasting in Canada," Mr. Lambert said. "Radio is admirably suited to be the instrument for strengthening national unity in the rising generation in our country. It is up to experts to prepare the plans—experts in education and experts in broadcasting."

PEACE PROPOSALS

Japan Is Constantly Offering More Liberal Terms To China

WASHINGTON.—China is constantly receiving peace proposals from Japan and the terms become more liberal as the Japanese become more hard pressed. T. V. Spong, Chinese foreign minister, said.

Spong said the Japanese are ready to get out of China (except for Manchuria and Formosa) if China will leave the United Nations and join Japan in a racial war against the white man.

He said that on the day the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor such a proposal came through, but that China had never wavered.

"I know of no conscious political group who sees in this any solution," the foreign minister said.

ADVERTISING CANADA

WINNIPEG.—R. A. Proulx of Ottawa, in charge of theatrical distribution for the national film board said in an interview here that more than 7,000 theatres in the United States are being serviced with films about Canada by the board. "There is a great need for publicizing Canada in foreign countries," Mr. Proulx also said.

When Poverty Is Defeated World Will Progress

LONDON.—Field Marshal Viscount Wavell, victory-designate of India, told the Pilgrims Society that, "we shall really be making progress when we are willing to spend money against poverty, ignorance, unemployment and sickness at the same rate as against Hitler—when we pay our schoolmasters at a much higher rate and our lawyers perhaps at a somewhat lower rate."

Advocating a return to the Pilgrim spirit, he called lend-lease the "first attempt on a large scale for many years to put principles and men's lives first and money second."

The victory-designate told the Anglo-American luncheon audience that the establishment of Vice-Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's East Asia command "will make Anglo-American co-operation even closer in India, which is one of the principal bases for our common effort against Japan."

"There can be no military or economic security for the East, for ourselves and for the world," he said, "until Japan is as thoroughly defeated as Germany."

He said, "we are approaching the end of the struggle with Hitler. We are only beginning the struggle to save civilization. . . . We shall many of us soon, I hope, be taking off our uniforms, but we must not cease fighting or let the sword sleep in our hands."

Great Mistake To Regard The War Near End

WITH THE CANADIANS IN ITALY.—Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery told a group of Canadian officers and non-commissioned officers that the war will be carried into Germany itself but until then it was premature to say that the end is in sight.

The 8th Army commander, paying tribute to the Canadians for the "great part" they took in knocking Italy out of the war, said it was a "great mistake" to regard the war as nearly over.

"North Italy is under German control," he said. "We won't be able to say the war is nearly over until we have carried it into the homeland of the Germans. That we shall do without doubt. Then we will be able to say the end of this part is in sight."

Gen. Montgomery spoke to the Canadians in a hilltop grove in the Canadian headquarters area in southern Italy. Maj.-Gen. Guy Simonds, commander of the Canadian 1st Division, was at Gen. Montgomery's side as the latter recalled how a year and a half ago a Canadian corps formed part of his command in southeastern England.

"I like to feel I played some small part in fitting that corps, of which you formed a part, for battle," he said. "I used to hope the Canadians, when they got into battle, would do so under my command. It was a great day for me when the Canadians came to the 8th Army."

(The Canadian 1st Division fought as part of the 8th Army in Sicily and is understood to be operating with the 8th Army in Italy.)

"The day we stepped ashore on the mainland of Europe Italy unconditionally surrendered. When we look back over the last year or so there is no doubt the activities of the 8th Army played a great part in knocking Italy out of the war."

"The last two months have changed the whole picture of the war. The Germans have been put on the run in Russia. The Germans are on the run here. Italy has been knocked out of the war. The Canadians have played a great part in that."

RUSSIAN SCIENCE

MONTREAL.—Dr. Wilder Penfield, noted Canadian neurosurgeon and a member of a surgical mission just returned from Russia, said that Russian medicine and surgery was on a par with ours, but they are superior in other directions, notably in the use of blood plasma.

PRIZE OFFERED

BURLINGTON, Ia.—George Gankes and John Skarlis, Burlington residents of Greek ancestry, offer $200 to the first service man who sets foot on Greek soil in the events of an invasion there by the Allies.

General McNaughton In Sicily

Lt. Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, G.O.C.-in-C, First Canadian Army, is shown here talking to Canadian officers who saw action through the Sicilian campaign. Gen. McNaughton recently visited all Canadian units and formations in Sicily, and North Africa.

George Formby Entertains Canadians

Shown here in the Canadian ward of a British Military General Hospital in North Africa, is George Formby, famous British music hall star. George Formby is presently touring Allied camps and hospitals in North Africa, entertaining soldiers and airmen.
